

HAND-TIED BOUQUET

of 'Sweet Avalanche' roses, bupleurum, stocks, sedum, dahlias,
rosemary and eucalyptus,
Emma Sousa Flowers

"Never underestimate foliage! There is so much variety available, and it really enhances wedding flowers if you incorporate several different types. I especially love scented foliage such as rosemary, sage and mint. Flowers like roses and hydrangea are more expensive than foliage, so use them sparingly in table arrangements and splash out when it comes to the bridal bouquet."
